

box cars and one-eyed jacks

Hello from all of us at Box Cars! Welcome to our first email campaign featuring game resources to share with your families. We hope this will help your students stay on track while schools are closed.

Box Cars is lucky to have an incredibly talented team of contractual consultants, one of whom is Kristen Hilty. Kristen brings with her years of national experience conducting workshops all over the US. She has filmed a few game videos for at-home use and we appreciate her allowing us to share them. There are more hot tips and e-learning resources on her website, makingmathmakesense.org, which you can find by clicking HERE.

Click the links below for two game videos from Kristen. These games are great for purposeful practice in a home setting, and are easily differentiated for varying skill levels.

Tic Tac Tens

Materials: regular dice and paper

Skills: Making Tens, Making Hundreds, and Making Ones (decimals)

Knock off the Clock

Materials: regular dice and/or cards, paper

Skills: Operations (addition, subtraction, multiplication, division) or number sense

Thank you Kristen for the videos! We will have more to share next week. If you know anyone who would like to be added to our newsletter list, please feel free to email us their contact information.

In the meantime, stay safe, and when possible, stay home.

All our best wishes,
The Box Cars Team <3

Jane
